SERFF Filing Access (SFA) Now Available in Delaware

Public Can View Rate and Form Filings Electronically

DOVER, DE – Insurance Commissioner Karen Weldin Stewart today announced that the Department of Insurance now offers members of the public the ability to view insurance rate and form filings electronically via the System for Electronic Rate and Form Filing (SERFF) interface, also commonly referred to as SERFF Filing Access or SFA.

Access to SERFF is free and available to the public by visiting www.delawareinsurance.gov/serff/. SERFF streamlines and accelerates the rate and form filing process and is used primarily by regulators and businesses within the insurance industry.

Developed by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, SERFF identifies state filing submission requirements and, through the use of checks and balances within the system, ensures greater accuracy and uniformity. Forty-nine states, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands and over 3,900 insurance companies, third-party filers, rating organizations and other companies make use of SERFF nationwide.
